NEWPORT IS WARNED

Secretary of Navy Daniels Sends Appeal to Governor to Correct Conditions

MAYOR OF CITY CLAIMS
CONDITIONS EXCELLENT

Mothers and Fathers, He Says,
Will Hold Government Responsible for Boys

Washington, June 20.—Sensational charges that recruits at the naval training station are exposed to open gambling houses, immoral houses and illegal sales of liquor were made by Secretary Daniels today, in an announcement that he had appealed to Governor Beckman.

In response to the complaint, the mayor of Newport made a general denial and said there was no unusual degree of immorality there. The naval department, therefore, made a second investigation and as a result, Secretary Daniels renewed his complaint to the governor.

Given in Trust.

"At Newport and other places are gathered several thousands of the finest youths of the land, who have offered their lives to their country at a time when this sacrifice is no figure of speech," said Mr. Daniels. "Most of them have come from carefully guarded homes, and their parents have given them to their country in sacred trust that the government will safeguard them from unnecessary perils."

Charged With Duty.

"I am charged with the duty of training these young men for service. State and local officers are charged with the duty of seeing that the laws of nation, state and city are executed."

"These dangers are bad enough in ordinary times; in time of war, when great bodies of men are necessarily gathered away from the restraints of home and under the stress of emotions whose actions tend to dislodge normal conditions, the danger is increased. If we fail in vigilance under these conditions, the mothers and fathers of these lads, generally, will rightly hold us responsible."

ZEPPELINS MAY REACH AMERICA

Copenhagen, June 20.—A German technical weekly calculates that regular Zeppelin trips to America are a possibility of the not far distant future. The paper says only a moderate increase in size over the present type would give the necessary lifting capacity for the airships. The article apparently was written with peace and not war time voyages in mind.

FIRST TWO DAYS
NET 35 MILLION

Washington, June 20.—Incomplete reports to American Red Cross headquarters here last night showed more than $35,000,000 subscribed during the first two days of the week's campaign to raise $100,000,000 for war relief.

Several great individual donations helped to swell the total today, but the Red Cross war council expects later reports to include a great multitude of smaller donations by people of moderate means, whose subscriptions went far toward the eleventh hour over subscription of the Liberty Loan.

Pledge Ten Million.

Tonight's total did not include the contributions of many small city or town communities, particularly in the west, where it is said local campaign committees plan to withhold their totals until late in the week, in the hope of avoiding a too optimistic spirit.

A single pledge of $10,000,000 has been given the war council tentatively for use in fighting tuberculosis in France. The name of the contributor was not made public.

A feature of yesterday's reports was the generous subscriptions from Cincinnati, Milwaukee, Buffalo and other cities having large German populations.

AMERICAN MERCHANTMAN
SUNK BY SUBMARINE

Boston, June 20.—The Warren liner Bay State, from Boston May 31, for Liverpool has been sunk by a German submarine. Advice to the company today gave nothing regarding the fate of the crew of the steamer.

ARTILLERY FIGHTING.

Paris, June 20.—Heavy artillery fighting is in progress on the Aisne and in the Champagne, says the official announcement today. A German infantry attack was repulsed.

WIN COMMENDATION OF COMMANDER ADMIRAL SIMS

The Base of the American Flotilla in British Waters, June 20.—Two American destroyers have returned here with 80 survivors of two torpedoed British ships. The ships were sunk at the farthest point westward in the Atlantic that the U-boats have appeared since the ruthless submarine campaign began. The destroyers went to the aid of the British boats in answer to their S. O. S. call.

When the American warships arrived on the scene, they found the ships were gone and for many hours they groped about in the dark in search of them. Thirty-one of the first boat were later found and 49 of the second boat were picked up later.

Admiral Sims and other naval officers met the destroyers on their return and complimented the commanders on their work.

Although there are no war time restrictions on the sale of liquor in the port here, the saloons are not the rendezvous of either the Americans or the Britishers. One of the diversions of the Americans is initiating their colleagues into the mysteries of the American national game of baseball.

TRAITOROUS BANNER
OF SUFFRAGE FORCES
IS TORN DOWN

Washington, June 20.—The peaceful picketing of the White House grounds by silent sentinels of the suffrage cause lead to the first disorder today when a crowd of angry men tore down banners the women were holding up for the Russian mission to see. The rush was over before the police arrived, and no arrests were made.

The banners were inscribed: "President Wilson and Envoy Root are deceiving Russia. They say: 'We are a democracy. Help us win a world war so that democracy may survive.' 'We, the women of America, tell you that America is not a democracy. Twenty million women are denied the right to vote. President Wilson is the chief opponent of their national enfranchisement. Help us make this nation really free. Tell our government that it must liberate its people before it can claim free Russia as an ally.'"

KIDNAP BELGIANS

Havre, June 20.—Information reaching the Belgian government daily from occupied territory confirms the fact officially denounced by the Belgian government that the Germans have begun again to carry off by force Belgian civilians, both men and women, and compelling them to perform work useful to the enemy.

North Dakota Enters the Bone
Dry Column in Reality Week
From Next Sunday

STORES ALREADY LAID

Authorities Have Indicated Intention of Seizing Unreasonable Amounts

With only a few days remaining in which intoxicating liquors may be imported into North Dakota, every incoming train from "below" is loaded down with every known variety of drinkable and undrinkable. The North Dakotans who must have his wee drop is preparing for the long drouth ushered in July 1 through the joint operations of North Dakota's new bone dry law and the Webb-Kenyon federal statute. Twin city liquor houses, which have long enjoyed a heavy mail order business in North Dakota, for the last three months have urged patrons to stock up. "No one can prevent your laying in as much liquor as you can pay for," they advise their customers. State's attorneys hold otherwise. Large stocks of liquor already have been confiscated on the grounds that they are too large to warrant the assumption that they are intended for personal use, and a more general raid on wine cellars no doubt will come after July 1.

Due to Fluke.

North Dakota's entrance into the bone dry column July 1 comes through a fluke. Representative Bowman of Kulm, a league leader in the Fifteenth assembly, introduced a bill requiring railroads to procure a receipt from consignees of liquor shipments and demanding a certificate from the recipient that the intoxicants were intended for his personal use. The idea of the bill was that it would curb the operations of blindpiggers and bootleggers who have shipped in large quantities in their own names and in the names of others, with or without the consent of the owners. When the temperance committee in the senate received the measure it decided to go further by determining the question of just what amount of liquor might be considered reasonable for personal consumption. Four quarts of whiskey, eight gallons of wine and 72 quarts of beer were fixed as a fair limit for individual monthly consumption, and the committee also amended the bill to provide that registered pharmacists under affidavit that the liquor was to be sold for medicinal purposes and not illegally might import intoxicants. Both amendments passed, and the bill

Chicago, June 20.—When the big excursion steamer, Theodore Roosevelt, ran on the rocks last night with her load of 1,300 delegates to the encampment of Modern Woodmen of America, the playing of "America" and the "Star Spangled Banner" by the band averted a panic.

VICTIM JUMPS FROM SECOND STORY WINDOW

New York, June 20.—More than 800 girls, between the ages of 10 and 20 years, have disappeared from their homes since January 1, it transpired today, coincident with an announcement by Police Commissioner Arthur Wood, that he had ordered begun the most searching inquiry into police conditions since that conducted over the Rosenthal murder.

White Slave Traffic.

Investigators working on the Ruth Cruger mystery today continued their efforts to locate the persons believed to have been accomplices in the murder of the girl.

Importance is attached to the statement made by Miss Consuelo LaRue, that she had jumped from a window, of her apartment yesterday, to escape being killed by two men who attacked her, because she had given information which resulted in Miss Cruger's body being found.

Miss LaRue is said to be in possession of much valuable information regarding the white slave traffic.

$30,000 IN
FROM COACH

Chicago, June 20.—Official announcement that gold and silver coins stolen from an express car safe here last night amounted to nearly $30,000, was made today by G. M. Curtis, vice president and general manager of the western department of the Adams Express company. A package of diamonds, thought to have been taken also, was found today in the safe.

Jack R. Andrews of Burlington, Ia., messenger in charge of the robbed car, and Ward R. Smiley of Monmouth, Ill., a messenger in another car, who was with Andrews at the time two masked men bound them and robbed the safe, still were in custody of the police early today. Both declared that after they were bound one of the robbers fitted a duplicate knob into the safe dial and opened the strong box without apparent difficulty.

POOL ALL COAL
DISTRIBUTION IS RECOMMENDED

Trade Commission Declares There
Is Serious Danger of Shortage Next Winter

CARS ARE NOT FILLED
OR MOVED PROMPTLY

Would Establish a Uniform Price
Entirely Tolerable to Consumers of Nation

Washington, June 20.—Government pools of coal production and distribution, and of rail and water transportation were recommended to congress today by the federal trade commission as the only means of avoiding a disastrous coal shortage next winter.

"The commission believes," says the report submitted after many months of investigation ordered by congress, "that the coal industry is paralyzing the industries of the country and that the coal business is paralyzed by the failure of transportation. There are enough coal cars in the country, but not enough are moved to the mines. Nor are they promptly discharged when filled. In view of this we recommend:

Recommend a Pool.

"First, that the production and distribution of coal and coke be conducted through a pool in the hands of a government agency, and that the producers of various grades of fuel be paid their full cost of production plus a uniform profit per ton."

Second, that the transportation agencies of the United States, both rail and water, be similarly pooled and operated on government account, and under the direction of the president, and that all such means of transportation be operated as a unit, and that the holding corporations be paid a just and fair compensation which covers normal net profit, upkeep and betterments."

These recommendations are approved by Commissioners Davies, Colver and Fort. Chairman Harris dissents on the plan for transportation pool, except as a last resort.

"An urgent necessity exists for immediate legislation to correct conditions," says the report, "because the usual summer and spring accumulation of coal stock at points distant from producing points is not now taking place, but it must be made during what remains of the summer unless the country is to face next winter a serious and irreparable situation."

Uniform Prices.

Discussing the proposed remedy, the commission says:

"If the producer at each mine were

Teams met with such ready responses yesterday, when together with what was subscribed at the state capital, the grand total for the day reached nearly $10,000 that they started out with renewed energy today to raise the rest of Burleigh county's share in the war relief fund.

This City Leads.

Bismarck's per capita donations exceeded the subscriptions of any city in the state, and it is expected when the county districts report next Friday that Burleigh county will be one of the banner ones of the state in this drive to secure funds to succor United States' first expeditionary force.

To the excellent management of H. P. Goddard, chairman of the war relief fund committee, assisted by 15 or 20 able lieutenants, whose names will be given in due time, is much of the credit due for the first success.

Much to Be Done.

The canvass will be continued, unabated until Saturday evening. At a luncheon held at the McKenzie hotel today, plans were discussed for the balance of the week. Everyone assessed will be seen and given an opportunity to contribute to this mercy fund of $100,000,000.

There is still much to be done

There can be no resting on laurels.

Every team member was enthusiastic last evening, as tired and weary, he rolled into bed to gather strength for a fresh drive today.

"Never saw such eagerness," said one team member.

"Only turned down by one," echoed another.

It was probably the most spontaneous response ever witnessed in the city.

County Active Too.

From the county came telephone reports that every locality was doing its share. No reports will be recorded or donations given out from the county until the cards and envelopes are turned in and audited by Bradley Marks, chairman of the Bismarck chapter, and J. L. Bell, treasurer of the local chapter.

Rev. Buzzelle, vice-president of the local chapter, made a flying trip to McKenzie yesterday to be present at the rally last evening. It is expected that McKenzie will subscribe $2,000. There is a friendly rivalry among the various towns to outdo one another.

Meeting with Success.

The women are meeting with considerable success. No reports will be announced from then until Saturday. They expect to canvass the residence district thoroughly. Each street was being visited today by women who have kindly volunteered their services.

Leading business men have laid aside the affairs of the office and the store to engage in this errand of mercy. Never was there such ready willingness to donate time as well as money to make Burleigh county's drive successful.

Response at Capitol.

Special mention should be made of the response at the state capital. While the contributions of state officials must pass through the Burleigh county committee, if any in the list care to have his subscription credited to his home county, it will be done. Bismarck appreciates the attitude of the state officials and there is no tendency to claim more than is due this county.

For that reason the contributions are separated from those of Burleigh county at the request of several state officials who have their legal residence elsewhere.

Do Excellent Work.

H. H. Steele, H. P. Goddard and N. A. Mason, governor Frasier's private secretary, did excellent work in getting the officials and employees at the state house together in the senate chamber, where the cards bearing the individual assessments were signed up.

A special drive will be made Saturday, when the members of the U. C. T. are home for the week-end. It is known that they will respond readily to the appeal. Probably Saturday evening the teams will get together.

SLOPE SUMMER SCHOOL IN FULL SESSION TODAY

Large Initial Attendance Augurs Well for Success of Enterprise, Says Love

The slope summer school is in full session, having started the regular program this morning. Supt. C. L. Love is conductor of the school and over 60 teachers enrolled to date to attend the five weeks' instruction. Mr. Love stated yesterday afternoon that he was more than favorably impressed with the outlook for a large attendance for the entire term. The following instructors are present: Supt. D. M. Stegenga of Mott, agriculture, botany and physical geography and American literature. Supt. C. L. Robertson of Hebron, geography, arithmetic, physiology and reading. C. L. Love of Mandan, physiology and theory of music. Miss Mabel Howard of Mandan, primary work in language, numbers, reading and seat work. Supt. J. M. Martin of Bismarck, history, civics, grammar and algebra. It is the present plan to hold the school sessions in the morning. The first period commences at 9 o'clock and the last period ends at 1 o'clock.

MANDAN MAKES DRIVE FOR RED CROSS FRIDAY

Two Days Set Aside for Soliciting of Memberships—Churches Are Helping

Friday and Saturday have been designated by the Mandan chapter of the Red Cross as Red Cross "red letter days" for Mandan. Miss Isabelle Voss has been named as chairman of the committee of young ladies who for two days will be stationed at the various corners of the Mandan business district soliciting subscriptions for the Red Cross cause. A dollar subscription will entitle the holder to a one-year membership. Life memberships will be sold at $25. Rev. Father Clement of the Catholic church has declared his intention of boosting the cause and Sunday announced that collections will be taken up in church for the benefit of the Red Cross.

THREE YOUNG WOMEN TO GRADUATE FROM MANDAN INDUSTRIAL TRAINING

Three young ladies will graduate from the eighth grade at the state industrial and training school this evening. Supt. J. M. Devine takes pride in the class, which though small, is one of the best to ever graduate from the course prescribed by that institution. An elaborate program has been prepared for those who desire to attend.

BOY FUGITIVE FOUND.

Clarence Compton, who attempted to escape from the state industrial school Sunday night after hiding in a laundry basket filled with clothes, all day was Monday evening apprehended by Officer Reynolds. He was hiding under the Resler porch.

Miss Bayliss on Vacation—Miss Fern Bayliss, teacher in the commercial department of the Mandan high school left last evening for Chicago, where she will spend a few days visiting friends and relatives.

Bismarckers Here—Miss Ethel Ethel Barnes and Mrs. Birlea Ward of the capital city were in Mandan yesterday attending to business affairs.

GUNNER BAGS FIRST U-BOAT FOR U. S.

Uncle Sam's first victim in his campaign against the U-boat was bagged by Warrant Officer Clark, gunner on the Silvershell, when the freighter was stopped by the German submarine. Clark sank the U-boat in a running fight after 40 shots had been fired. He is from the U. S. S. Arkansas.

HEBRON'S POPULATION WAS UNDER-ESTIMATED

Tribune Story Did Thriving Little Village Unintentional Injustice

With an eye single to playing up Hebron's patriotism in registering such a large number of candidates for selective service June 5, The Tribune, according to an article in last week's edition of The Hebron Tribune, has done the thriving Morton county village an unintentional injustice by playing down its population.

The Tribune referred to Hebron's population as not exceeding 700. This figure was quoted after an estimate had been made based on the federal census statistics for 1910, which gave Hebron a population of 397. The Hebron Tribune advises that The Tribune's estimate was low; that Hebron had a public school enrollment last year of 176, and that "the city of Hebron contains within its domains probably between 1,200 and 1,300 people."

The comparison was made by The Tribune in good faith, using a table of averages which would have held good in most cities, but which apparently does not in Hebron, whose gains in population during the last seven years, according to the Herald, have been more than 125 per cent.

INDIANS IN CHARGE OF RESERVATION'S FOURTH

Patriotic Program Prepared for Observance of Independence Day

Fort Yates, N. D., June 20—Fort Yates' Fourth of July celebration will be held under the auspices of agency Indians, who frequently have demonstrated that they are among North Dakota's most patriotic citizens. Thomas Prosted, captain of Indian police is chairman of the arrangement committee. The Standing Rock Indian band will furnish music, and there will be old time Indian sports and pastimes.

To Thoughtless Men

Don't the wife deserve modern tools for her work too?

Many a man farmer, artisan or business man alike buys the most modern tools for his work and lets his wife go on working over a stove that was out of date thirty years ago.

It's not selfishness—it's thoughtlessness and this appeal is to make you think.

A MONARCH Malleable Range in your kitchen would make a wonderful difference in your wife's house work.

It would make the work hours fewer and pleasanter.

Drop in and see this most modern of Ranges or better yet send her and say, "go as far as you like."

Kept the Pig in The Flivver and 'Twas Irish Too

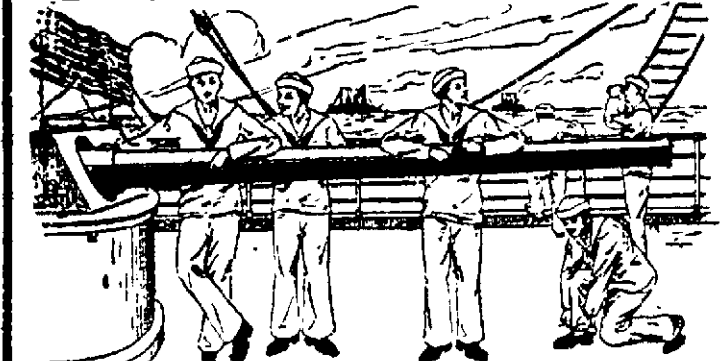

Fort Yates, N. D., June 20—Dan U'rell, pioneer scout and Indian fighter, discovered a prize boar which had strayed from home as he was driving into Fort Yates a few days ago. At a loss what to do with the valuable porker, U'rell finally boosted him into the rear seat of his tonneau, which his lordship contentedly occupied while his owner finished his business here and drove his property home.

REPUBLICANS IN FIRST TO RETIRE FOR CONVENTION

Vick, Plain, Cuthbert and Burt-ness Will Withdraw in Favor of Party Nominees

HALL STANDS PAT AND PREPARES FOR BATTLE

Grand Forks, N. D., June 20.—At the Republican district convention here today, called to choose a candidate for the special congressional election to be held July 10, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late H. T. Helgesen, Henry G. Vick, Charles W. Plain, Fred T. Cuthbert and O. D. Burtness, all avowed candidates, agreed to withdraw and abide by the decision of the convention as to the party's candidate.

"We Will Stand Pat"—Hall.
"We intend to stand pat on the proposition that the convention held in Grand Forks today has no official standing," said Secretary of State Hall, when advised of the agreement of Vick, Plain, Cuthbert and Burtness to withdraw. "We anticipate a legal battle, unless one of the men named should be endorsed by the convention, and we are prepared for it. Our stand is that nominations closed June 10; that the only lawful nominations under the election statutes of North Dakota are those made by individual petition; that these nominations have been made in case of the seven men whose names are on the ballots now being printed, and that these ballots cannot be changed."

Mr. Hall reiterated his opinion that no candidate whose name now appears on the ballot can withdraw officially. "The only thing they can do," said Mr. Hall, "is to notify their supporters that they are not candidates."

Regardless of the action of the convention today, the republican vote in the first will be split to some extent, as H. H. Aaker of Grand Forks and Fargo, whose name is on the ballot as a progressive-republican-nonpartisan, has declined to withdraw. There will be a four-cornered battle between the candidate endorsed by the republican convention today, George A. Bangs, the democratic nominee; John M. Baer, endorsed by the Non-partisan league, and Aaker.

TATLEY RETIRES FROM BISMARCK HOTEL BUSINESS

Veteran Boniface Succeeded by John and Fred Peterson and Henry Halvorsen

NEW MANAGEMENT TAKES CHARGE FIRST OF JULY

A transaction of interest to the hotel trade throughout the northwest was made today, when the Grand Pacific and Bismarck hotels, two of the Capital City's oldest hostilities, were transferred by Henry Tatley to John Peterson, Henry Halvorsen and Fred Peterson. The new managers will assume charge July 1, when Mr. Tatley expects permanently to retire from active interest in the properties. He will remain a resident of Bismarck and retains control of the Annex.

The new proprietors have grown up in the hotel business in Bismarck. John Peterson has been connected with the Grand Pacific for 10 years and Henry Halvorsen for eight. Fred Peterson has not been so directly concerned in the hotel work, having spent a number of years in the employ of the postoffice department at Washington before he was transferred to the land department here three years ago.

It is understood that John Peterson and Henry Halvorsen will have direct charge of the Grand Pacific, while Fred Peterson will look after the management of the Bismarck.

The retiring hotel man filed on a claim in McLean county in 1883. Nine years later he sold out and came to Bismarck, where he ran the Western house, located where the Orpheum theater now is, for two years. The first Grand Pacific hotel, now the Bismarck, was built by Mr. Tatley in 1896. Work on the original part of the present Grand Pacific was begun in 1906, and the hotel was opened January 1, 1907. Six years ago the north wing and the new dining room were added. The Grand Pacific is a modern hostelry of 120 rooms, and the Bismarck has 65, of which 30 are in an addition completed last year.

begin July an abstinence which probably never will be broken.

BURDEN ON RAILWAYS

Under the Webb-Kenyon act the power of the federal government is placed behind North Dakota. Railways are prohibited from carrying liquors into dry territory. It detected in a violation of the state and federal statutes an injunction may be laid upon them, followed by heavy penalties for a second offense. Even now President Edwin Pennington of the Soo line faces trial at Minot on a charge of aiding and abetting the violation of North Dakota's prohibition act through permitting the shipping over his railway of alleged unreasonable quantities of liquor into Minot. After July 1 the whole burden is placed on the railways, and lucrative as this heavy express and freight business has been, it is not likely any company will knowingly risk prosecution under the new act. State authorities hold that even personal baggage may be raided for liquors, and that the stuff may be seized whenever and wherever found within the state after July 1. Which may mean war for thousands of citizens who have well stocked caches.

Girls Doing Bit.
Mrs. Minnie Clarke Hudlong, secretary of the North Dakota Public Library commission, and Mrs. A. M. Packard of the tax commission official family, named as a committee to solicit funds for the Red Cross among women employees of the capitol, reported this afternoon remarkably good success. All of the young women have contributed freely and liberally, and have done their share to swell the state house's quota.

At Grand Forks.
Grand Forks, which has been allotted $20,000 of North Dakota's Liberty Loan apportionment, raised over $6,000 in its first day's drive. S. S. Titus heading the list with $2,600, $1,070 at Jamestown.

Jamestown at noon today wired that $1,070 had been subscribed up to that hour for the Red Cross war relief fund.

Mandan Drive Friday.
The big drive for the Red Cross in Mandan will come Friday and Saturday. A number of teams have been named for the canvass.

NOTICE TO CITIZENS OF BISMARCK CONCERNING REMOVAL OF GARBAGE

On June 12, 1917, the City Commission let a contract for garbage removal.

You are required to provide your own receptacles. You must keep these garbage cans in a place where they can be reached easily by the collectors. The health of the community demands that all garbage be collected regularly and we ask that you cooperate with the city in making this collection a success. The ordinance further provides that any violation is punishable by a fine of not less than $5 and not more than $25. Have your cans ready for the collector when he calls.

SUFFERED TWO YEARS WITH CHRONIC CATARRH

Miss Emelie A. Haberkorn, 2231 Gravois Ave., St. Louis, Mo., writes: "For over two years I was troubled with internal catarrh. I heard of the Peruna booklet. I read it and wrote to them, and they answered my letter promptly. I began taking treatment as soon as possible. Tongue cannot express how I suffered with my stomach, and I also was troubled with catarrh of the head. I didn't feel like myself for a long time. So I began taking Peruna. I have taken four bottles, and now I cannot praise it enough. Anyone who has chronic catarrh should write the Peruna Medical Department. They will help any one. I feel grateful for what they have done for me, and would not do without Peruna. I now enjoy as good health as ever. I find it has improved my health."

went back to the house for its concurrence. There, in some manner which never has appeared in the house journal, the amendment covering importation of liquor for personal use was lost entirely, and the measure, passed with only the amendment relating to registered pharmacists' handling of intoxicants. This fact was not discovered until Governor Frazier had signed the bill and it had become law, for the first time giving North Dakota an opportunity to become bone dry.

Never Had Licensed Saloon.
North Dakota has never known a legally licensed saloon. It entered the union in 1889 a dry state. The prohibition plank of its constitution, however, gave the legislature authority to permit the importation of liquor for personal use. Until 15 years ago east of the river and as late as 10 years ago west of the river, this dryness was highly imaginary. Years after North Dakota became a state liquor was openly served in Bismarck, particularly during legislative sessions. Comparatively recent residents can recall open saloons in the old cow-towns west of the Missouri. Gradually, however, public opinion veered around to the side of law enforcement and for the last 10 years no wide open, classed saloon has been found anywhere in North Dakota. The blindplugging evil has slowly diminished, and North Dakota is in first class condition to paid his full cost of production with allowance for all usual items, and to this were added a uniform net profit per ton, the cost thus produced at widely varying costs if pooled could be sold through the government at an average and uniform price, quality considered, which would be entirely tolerable to the consuming public, and at a price much lower than could be fixed if an effort were made to fix a uniform price to the producers."

FINE RESPONSE.

It reveals the heart of the American people

That is the best tribute one can pay to the fine response of Monday evening and yesterday. The story is told elsewhere in these columns.

Bismarck is better for the sacrifices of Monday and Tuesday. By reason of them the Capital City is stronger for the sacrifices of today and every day this week, until Burleigh comes under the wire with its $15,000 contribution to the Red Cross war relief fund.

Less than 100 men rub elbows informally at a dinner and before they rise from their places, $5,000 is placed in the mercy box to succor our boys who soon will join the hosts of Europe on the bloodstained battle fields.

Then for hours afterwards, on the next day, these same men toil with their fellow citizens, and add thousands more to the nation's mercy box. They do this not lagging, but with enthusiasm, with joy and with a self-effacement typical of all true patriots.

Why mention names? Bismarck knows the honor roll of men and women today. After their names are written the first contribution to this great battle in defense of liberty and home.

If there is any laggard, let these responses challenge his latent patriotism. Let it spur him to a realization of the dire need of the hour.

He who giveth to the poor lendeth to the Lord.

But he who gives to the Red Cross not only lends to the Lord, but comes to the succor and very sustenance of the children of God.

A condition exists in Europe today beyond the grasp of the finite mind. Nations have been swept from their moorings. The bulwarks of civilized existence are at stake. Your home and my home are threatened as surely as though we were within reach of shrapnel and shell, as surely as though we ourselves were in the midst of the strife or stood in the bloody breaches.

Just because some are apathetic does not lessen the danger or shift the responsibility.

Famine and disease stalk over the vast areas of Europe today, breaking down the social fibre of Europe.

Was there ever a more urgent call for aid?

Into this environment our boys must go before the snows of another winter have passed away. How are we going to send American soldiers into these plague-festered regions?

Do you want your boy to go without the Red Cross relief corps?

He certainly will unless the American people; unless the residents of Burleigh county do their part. The smallest part they can do is to give money.

A good start has been made, but there is much still to be done. Let every slacker get out of the tall grass and pledge something.

France must be prepared for the reception of American troops. Are we to send soldiers to Europe before every safeguard is taken to protect them against the ravages of disease and pestilence as well as to succor the wounded and dying?

It is your DUTY to give.

It is your PRIVILEGE to give.

National Geographic Magazine has a picture of "Russian soldiers awaiting a German attack." We believe it to be a good and correct picture. There has been nearly a year in which to photograph Russian soldiers awaiting a German attack.

RELEASING BRITISH NAVY

In the giving of control of exports to the president there is opportunity of the highest importance. To a great extent the necessity of the British blockade can be removed since it has been United States exports that have slipped through neutral countries, to the advantage of Germany.

President Wilson can see to it that neutrals get no more than enough for their own immediate needs. Relief of a large part of the British navy from continental on blockade duty may mean some special enterprises by the British navy. Most of the time we've hardly realized that the mighty British navy was afloat. We may soon see it doing things highly dramatic.

OF THE CROSB.

There isn't any Cross of the Legion of Honor for Manus Duggan. He led no troops that slaughtered. He bombed no helpless towns. He was no daring aviator who fought his 20 antagonists from the skies. He killed no one.

He was but a miner, one of the rough, sooty fellows you sometimes meet. He was young, had a little home, a wife and infant child. Just one of the plain, every day fellows you pass without notice, whom you let go through life without feeling that they are your brothers. Manus Duggan! How common it sounds when uttered with names that the world calls great!

Manus Duggan saved 25 men in that Montana mine catastrophe, and died. As his breath grew short, down there in the black depths of the earth, he scribbled on a piece of paper, which they have now found on his corpse, "Air's getting foul. But I'm not afraid to die."

No roar of battle, no cheers of victory, no flag for the dying eyes, no glorious thought of sacrifice for country. Loneliness, stillness, darkness, as the air to breathe lowers and lowers. In the Valley of the Shadow of Death, Manus feared not, neither for himself, nor his wife and babe. He had no need to. He was giving his life for his friends. The Good Shepherd puts the Cross of Honor on such, though the world may forget war relief fund.

TREATMENT OF BELGIANS.

Even in war there are supposed to be certain "rules of the game," based on humanity and fundamental decency among nations which have in the course of centuries led to the abandonment of primitive practices, such as the enslavement of conquered nations, the slaughter of women and children, the bombardment of unprotected cities and coasts, and the sinking of unarmed vessels without warning.

One reason that the United States is at war with Germany is that Germany has not observed these unwritten "rules of the game." Germany has violated practically all of them. The last to be violated is that in regard to enslaving a conquered nation. It is many centuries since this species of slavery has been practiced; yet Germany has practiced it against the unoffending Belgians. A calm, complete and unimpeachable report has just been made to our state department by the Belgian minister, Mr. de Cartier, who gives the history of each step of the German activities which led finally to the deportation of thousands of Belgians.

The conclusion of this document sums the matter up as follows: "Before their deportation they are formally called upon to choose between a so-called 'voluntary' engagement for work in Germany, with seemingly high wages, and, on the other hand, deportation, with a wage which is a mockery (30 pfennigs a day). Whether they sign the contract or not, it means forced separation from their families. The German majority refuse to sign, and are then subjected to horrible treatment regulated cleverly and applied with the refinement of calculated cruelty, which, it had been thought, was the attribute only of savage peoples or of those who had returned to savagery. Torture by hunger by thirst, by cold, by standing rigidly, by whippings, threats of imprisonment and of death; blows with the rifle butt, etc.; every means were employed to overcome the resistance of these obscure heroes of patriotic duty.

"Reports that would make any civilized man tremble with indignation have come into the possession of the Belgian government, showing the unspeakable suffering inflicted on thousands of innocent people in the camps where the German government has caused them to be crowded together, in order that this sort of pitiable human cattle may be sorted out and enslaved for the ends of despotism.

"The suffering is perhaps still worse among those unfortunates who are sent to points behind the German lines in Flanders and in France.

"Compelled, in spite of themselves, to undertake heavy toil and to work outdoors during the severest season of the year, without having been trained or hardened, exposed to artillery fire, deprived of proper clothing, and scarcely nourished, a multitude of these unfortunates soon fall from exhaustion and from illness. RETAINS ENGINEER.

Editor's Note: To allay unfair criticism, Commissioner Battery forwarded the following communication to the Tribune:

Bismarck, N. D., June 18, 1917.

The City Commission has retained Frederic W. Bass as Consulting Engineer on the paving work for 1917.

Mr. Bass is professor of highway engineering at the University of Minnesota, and comes highly recommended. Mr. J. A. Farrell of Duluth, Minn., who acted as Consulting Engineer for us last season, could not act this year, because of duties he has been called upon to perform on account of the war.

For the information of the public, copies of four communications bearing on different phases of the paving work are given below.

Further communications and reports received from Mr. Bass will be printed from time to time, as they may appear of general interest.

R. C. BATTEY,
 Chairman of Paving Committee.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 9, 1917.

Mr. R. C. Battey, Commissioner of Finance,
 Bismarck, N. Dak.

Dear Sir:

In reply to your inquiry as to the quality of the gravel being used in Paving District No. 2, I would say that, while it is not all that could be desired, it is said to be the best available within reach of Bismarck.

The specifications call for not more than 3 per cent of clay, not more than 70 per cent, nor less than 50 per cent of material that shall pass a 14 inch screen, no material that will not pass through a 2 inch screen, and at least 25 per cent of the material that remains on a 14 inch screen shall pass a 1 inch screen. They further provide that if the natural or pit-run gravel does not conform to the above, coarse or fine material shall be added, so that it shall conform.

The City Engineer has caused a test of the Washburn gravel that is being used, to be made; this test gives the following results by volume, which is approximate to the results that would be obtained by weight:

22.9 per cent retained on the 1/2 inch screen

18.5 per cent retained on the 1/4 inch screen

24.5 per cent retained on the 1/8 inch screen

35 per cent passing the 1/8 inch screen

Of the 35 per cent passing the 1/8 inch screen, 84 per cent was described as dirt, which in this case is the equivalent of clay.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 9, 1917.

Mr. R. C. Battey, Commissioner of Finance,
 Bismarck, N. Dak.

Dear Sir:

In reply to your inquiry as to the quantity of cement being used in the concrete foundation for the pavement in Districts Nos. 1 and 2, with the assumption that the gravel is of a lower grade, than would be the ideal, I would say that I consider that a first-class foundation is possible provided that all of the necessary conditions of mixing and laying and protecting of the foundation in place before the surface is laid, are complied with.

Yours truly,
 FREDERIC BASS.

This analysis shows that 59.5 per cent passed the 1/4 inch screen, which is within the limits prescribed by the specifications, and that more than 35 per cent of the material retained on the 1/4 inch screen would pass the 1 inch screen. There are a few stones over 2 inches in diameter.

I have asked the city engineer to have further tests made, with the results expressed in weights, and will report again when this has been done.

Yours truly,
 FREDERIC BASS.

The Day at the State House

TO MEET JUNE 29—
 The state board of regents will meet at the capitol June 29, to close up business for the fiscal year.

BOARD MEETS—

The state board of university and school lands held a brief meeting yesterday, when some important matters were discussed, but, Secretary of State Hall advises, no action taken.

AN OBJECT LESSON—

An object lesson in the rapid advance in textile costs is given in a letter from Dr. Lamont of the state tuberculosis sanitarium, in which he advises that some wool felt and canvas duck desired for covering certain laundry machinery will cost $4 and 97 cents the yard, respectively, as compared with 80 cents and 38 cents when the last purchases were made by this institution.

CRAIGHEAD HERE—

Dr. E. B. Craighead, commissioner of education, is home from New York, where he attended a meeting of the Carnegie foundation, of which he is a member, and from Washington, where he conferred with United States Commissioner P. P. Claxton on the working out of changes in North Dakota's educational system proposed as a result of the survey in which Dr. Claxton participated. En route, Dr. Craighead visited his old home in Missouri and found the hound dog still alive and hearty.

EDITOR THOMPSON HERE—

E. C. Thompson, editor of the Park River Herald, called on capitol friends today.

AT FULL STRENGTH—

July 15, in the opinion of Adjutant General Tharalson, will find the First regiment, North Dakota National Guard, recruited to full strength. As previously noted, Co. 1 of Wahpeton already musters its full war complement of 150 men, and Co. H, Jamestown, has attained the same distinction. Co. K of Dickinson ranks second, with 140; Cos. A, Bismarck; F, Mandan; M, Grand Forks, and C, Grafton, are well over 100 men, and the companies below that quota are meeting with good success in recruiting.

RIDING TO HOUNDS—

Riding to the hounds has become a popular pastime with F. G. Neumier, press representative; Ernie Orchard, deputy state bank examiner, and other capitol city folk who have the early rising habit. "It is a rather thrilling sport, for instead of a coy fox or a wily rabbit, the prey hunted is of the human variety, and the dogs are the prison bloodhounds, as ferocious and deadly-looking and as mild and gentle a pack of animals as ever chased Eliza across a river filled with soap-box cakes of ice. Master of the Hounds Abernathy, who recently came here from convict camps in Texas to take charge of the prison pack, is teaching the hounds some new tricks. His training is done early in the morning, penitentiary guards who set out a half-hour or so in advance of the hounds assuming the role of fugitives. Then the dogs are unleashed. Abernathy and his companions leap into the saddle, and there is a wild, hilarious dash off over the prairies. The dogs have not to date failed to bring down their quarry. This morning the two "escaped convicts" were treed on the water tank at the rear of the capitol; it was cool and breezy about their lofty perch, and they were mighty glad when the dogs loped up and invited them to come down and be figuratively torn to pieces.

TO DISCUSS QUESTION—

Upon Governor Frazier's return from his present league stumping tour, which probably will be Saturday, a conference between the chief executive, Adjutant General Tharalson, Major G. A. Fraser of Fargo, who is scheduled to succeed Tharalson; Major Dana Wright, U. S. A., one of the governor's most trusted military advisors; Major R. R. Steedman, U. S. A., and the state's legal counsel, relative to the proposed change in the adjutant general's office. It is not known whether the governor or Major Fraser has obtained expert legal advice as to the possibility of the latter serving as registrar of deeds of Cass county and adjutant general at the same time. A Cass county commissioner is quoted as stating that it can be done. Others hold that it cannot. Should Fraser find it impossible for him to retain both offices, it will be a question as to which one he will relinquish. So far as financial gains are much more attractive, as the office of adjutant general pays but $1,800 per annum. If Major Fraser becomes adjutant general, it will result in a shift in officers of the First regiment and may also affect commissions for the second. Men eligible for commissions in the second guard regiment have been recommended to the governor, and their appointment probably will be thrashed out at the conference Saturday. That Adjutant General Tharalson is scheduled for a good command is the general opinion about the capitol, but Mr. Tharalson denies any present knowledge of future plans.

Here are British troops in a moment of rest on the way back from the front line trenches on west front. A few of the soldiers have been wounded, but not seriously. They are on the stretchers. Some of the men are busily cleaning away the accumulated dirt of several days under fire. This is an official British photo and one of the best yet received from the front.

This photo, taken during the battle, shows German prisoners being brought in under escort of British troops. They are marching over ground just torn by big shells.

SOCIETY

Committees of Red Cross Working on Bathrobes

Committees of women of the local Red Cross chapter have commenced sewing on the 233 bath robes and the knitting of several dozen pair of socks which will go to complete the 14 Red Cross boxes for the Bismarck section. Much work remains to be done on articles for the section and the local chapter is assisting materially in this part of the work.

Materials are being purchased today for knitting purposes and anyone desiring to aid in this phase of the work can do so by communicating with Mrs. P. C. Remington, phone 26. Mrs. Remington is chairman of the supply committee and is superintending the distribution of materials to workers. The Bismarck Red Cross section has received substantial aid from many of the towns in Burleigh county. Groups of women and girls have sewed steadily on articles for several weeks and nearly every organization in the city has contributed to the work.

A number of pajamas finished and returned recently to the headquarters in the basement of the new nurses home contained handkerchiefs, pencils and writing paper. The soldiers receiving these garments will no doubt consider these articles luxuries.

Cole-Gustavson Nuptials This Eve in Minneapolis

A marriage of interest to capital city people will be solemnized at 8 o'clock this evening in All Saints Episcopal church, Minneapolis, when Miss Marguerite Gustavson will become the bride of Dr. Walter Edgar Cole of this city. Rev. Hanford L. Russell, the rector, will read the service.

The bridal party will consist of Miss Eleanor Gustavson, sister of the bride, as maid of honor; Miss Gladys Baller of Waseca, Minn., as bridesmaid, and Dr. Ned Arginbright of Freeport, Ill., as best man. The bride will be given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Capt. A. A. Jones of Bismarck.

A wedding dinner at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. F. B. Probst, in Oakland avenue, will follow the service and will be given by Capt. and Mrs. Jones. Dr. Cole and his bride will take an extended lake trip. At home cards announce LaRue Apartment, Avenue A, after August 1.

The bride is well known in the capital city, where she has made her home for a number of years, with her sister, Mrs. Jones. She graduated from the Valley City normal school in 1915, and for the last year taught in the Fargo schools. Dr. Cole is connected with a local dental firm. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Cole of Lisbon, and is a graduate of the Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill., and a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity of the University of Iowa.

Dr. C. E. Johnson of this city left Tuesday for Minneapolis to attend the wedding.

Birth of Son.
Announcement has been made of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wingate of Broadway, Tuesday, in the St. Alexius hospital.

For Miss Foss.
In honor of Miss Roxie Foss, who leaves tomorrow to spend her vacation with her sister, Mrs. De La, of Velva, Mrs. D. T. Owens entertained informally 12 of her intimate friends Tuesday afternoon at her home on Fifth street. Fancy work was the diversion.

Concludes Visit Here.
Miss Mae Stafford of Los Angeles, Cal., who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Lynn J. Frazier, of the governor's mansion for several weeks, left Tuesday for Grafton, where she will visit at the home of Dr. Sutter. Later she will go to Crystal to visit her sister, Mrs. J. A. Minder. Miss Stafford will return to the capital city for a short visit with Mrs. Frazier before returning to her western home.

UNDERWEAR and Hose Sale

Now is the time for use of underwear and hose of light-weight if we use light weight this year. For the next ten days we are going to make a special effort along these lines. We were putting on the shelves yesterday a new line just received that we can recommend as to quality, weight and price.

While we have a line suited to men's wear we are paying especial attention this week to light, high grade underwear and hose for women and children.

Our stock is absolutely new, received this week, and the light in our rooms is such that you can see just what you are getting before you buy; yet we give you every facility possible to insure satisfaction after the purchase is made.

Ladies who have been ordering groceries over the telephone and others who have never traded with us will find it to their advantage to come to the store and see the stock we handle. It will surprise many of our best friends.

Society Girls' Summer Frocks

LEFT TO RIGHT: MISS GERALDINE ADEE, MISS FRANCES FIELD, MISS VIRGINIA LOWNEY, MISS ELEAN SEDGWICK

New York, June 20.—The well dressed girl was never more simply gowned than in this first year of American mobilization for the great war.

A boy of debutantes snapped recently at an informal social gathering included Miss Geraldine Adey, Miss Frances Field, Miss Virginia Lowney and Miss Elean Sedgwick. These daughters of well known families ri-valed each other in the plainness and daintiness of their summer dresses rather than in costliness of material or elaborateness of design. Style points which seemed to win their uni-ed approval are shoulder wide collars, deep hems and tucks, and a conspicuous lack of jewelry.

The society girl is seldom seen nowadays without her knitting bag

Mrs. Pankhurst Assist Russia in Continuing War

Petrograd, June 20.—Mrs. Emeline Pankhurst, the British suffragist leader, made an unexpected arrival in Petrograd yesterday. She conferred at length with Elihu Root and Charles Edward Russell as to what might be done to assist Russia in directing all its forces toward the struggle with the common foe.

Mrs. Pankhurst said that she had come to Russia to explain to the men and women of the new republic the attitude of the British democracy toward the war. She added that it was too early to announce exactly how she aimed to accomplish this, but she planned to appeal directly to the people and probably would address street audiences.

One of Mrs. Pankhurst's first appointments will be with Madame Kersensky, wife of the minister of war.

STUTSMAN COUNTY COURT

June Term Opened This Morning With Heavy Calendar

Jamestown, N. D., June 20.—The June term of district court opened here today with 111 cases, 13 of which are criminal, on the calendar. The jury reports tomorrow morning.

No Use For Them.
Richard, aged four, accompanied by his mother, was watching a regiment of soldiers, headed by its band, marching by. "Mamma," he asked, "what's the use of all them soldiers that don't make music?"

The consciousness of having the hair and scalp sweet and sanitary brings a feeling of comforting self assurance.

Mrs. C. C. Putnam of Fifth street is a patient in the Bismarck hospital. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hagmann of Avenue A have gone to St. Paul to spend the summer with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Green. They will also spend part of the summer at the lakes near the city.

Mrs. F. R. Cole and son, Robert, of Thayer street left Tuesday evening for South Dakota, where the former was called by the serious illness of her parents.

Miss Anna Streib of Second street returned today from a short visit with her parents in New Salem.

Mrs. Frank E. Packard and children of Seventh street have gone to Crookston, Minn., for a six weeks' visit with Mrs. Packard's relatives.

To Sew for Red Cross.
The Wikaca campfire group will meet this evening with Miss Griffin at her home on Front street. The evening will be spent in sewing articles for the Red Cross.

Ladies' Aid Meeting.
The monthly social meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the McCabe church will be held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the church parlors. Members of the first division will be the hostesses. Division No. 3 has announced a food sale for Saturday afternoon in the office of the Gas company, Fifth and Broadway. The sale will begin at 2.30.

Soldiers' Dancing Party.
One of the largest crowds to ever assemble in Patterson hall for a dancing party is expected Thursday evening, when the benefit for the soldiers' feed for Independence day is staged. Many tickets have been disposed of by the young girls and boys of the city, who volunteered their services to aid the Women's Auxiliary to Company A in this large undertaking.

WOMEN REGISTERED LIKE MAN—WHY NOT?

Miss Sadeld believes she's the only woman in America who registered on June 5. "Why shouldn't a woman register?" she wanted to know as she walked up to a booth in Grand Rapids. The registrars had no answer and so they registered her. She lives in Chicago but was visiting in Grand Rapids that day. Her registration card will be sent to Chicago authorities. Miss Sadeld can run an auto, operate wireless or nurse. She didn't claim exemption.

Gore Says Food Bill Robs Farmers

Washington, June 20.—In a vigorous attack on the administration's food control bill in the senate today, Senator Gore, democrat, chairman of the agriculture committee, declared it strikes at the farmer, will cause losses to the producers this year of $250,000,000 in wheat, and $500,000,000 in corn, and will result in famine next year, through reduced production.

Senator Gore declared the bill's "short-sighted" policy would result in driving down farmers' prices. "It was drawn by some attorney down at the department of agriculture," he shouted, "but one would think it is the handwriting of the Devil and that it would be sacrilege to change it."

Senator Gore declared the bill was the "sweepings" of all the British and Canadian food acts of parliament and orders in council.

"They are all strung together in this bill like a lot of beads. If Congress loses its self-respect in passing this bill unopposed, everybody else will lose his respect for congress."

MAKING PHYSICAL VALUATION.
Engineers representing Hagenaw & Erickson of Chicago, with L. A. Baker, statistical engineer of the tax commission, are engaged in making a survey of public utilities at Fargo, with a view to establishing valuations for taxation. This survey will include every public utility in North Dakota, unless a test suit instituted by one corporation shall prove the law under which the survey is being made to be unconstitutional.

MANY CHECKS: LITTLE CASH CHARGE AGAINST M'CLUSKY YOUNG MAN

Too many checks with, it is alleged, too little cash to back 'em, has landed in Burleigh a battle one Gustav Hunkel, an enterprising McClusky youngster, who bought various meals and beds in Bismarck and a motorcycle at Sterling on the strength of notes of hand which, it is claimed, did not prove negotiable.

Hunkel bought the motorcycle at Sterling, giving a check for $65 in payment. He was gaily drilling down a capital city street when he was stopped by Big Chief Martinson, who contradicted the theory that large bodies move slowly. Besides the motorcycle which he was on, Hunkel had on him a 38 gun. Four of the alleged bad checks are held by Bismarck people.

"SVELTING" PART OF DESIGNERS' BUSINESS

One-piece Model For Full Figure.

New York, June 20.—About the only prophecy of winter fashions which may be ventured is that lines will once more be juvenile, that is, straight.

Designers, however, are doing what they can for the heavy women by a process called "scientific svelting." Ample figures attired in one-piece gowns of this type are supposed to rival the slender lines which are rather more familiar in fashion magazines than in society.

On Western Trip—R. C. Battey of the International Harvester company left today on a business trip, to include a number of western points.

Paper From Spinach.
A French horticulturist, M. de Noyer, proposes the stems of spinach for making paper. These contain 40 per cent of cellulose, against four per cent in the stems of wheat straw. M. de Noyer claims that, in experiments in making paper from spinach stems, he has followed the methods of the Grenoble paper-making school and has produced a product equal to the best Japanese in its remarkable consistency.

Getting Acquainted With the Facts

ISAPPOINTMENTS AND SURPRISES SHOWN IN FIRST TWO MONTHS OF MAJOR LEAGUE RACES

By PAUL PURMAN.

As the big league races draw near the halfway mark it is interesting to look over the club and figure on their possibilities and see how they line up with early season predictions. With the exception of St. Louis and Detroit the American league clubs seem to be going at about the clip that was expected of them. Boston, Chicago and New York seem to be the best in the league, with Cleveland trailing, Detroit scrambling out of the tail end heap, Fielder Jones not getting all he should out of the Browns and Washington and Philadelphia draining the dregs.

The disappointments are St. Louis and New York. As the season opened St. Louis figured a certain first division club. Fielder Jones had good pitching and developed two youngsters. He has fair catching, a fast infield, a consistent outfield and bullet speed. But St. Louis has been losing many games by scant margins. The breaks have seemingly been against the club.

There's a different situation at New York. Donovan has excellent pitching and a well balanced team. He has a pair of fence busters in Baker and Pipp and should have the greatest scoring machine in the league. New York, so far this season, has played ball without pep. There is no punch in the club and a club can't win pennants without punch.

Chicago developed brains and will be out in front for the rest of the season with a very good chance to beat the Red Sox.

A club must win about 95 games in a season to annex a pennant. Figuring on this basis, Chicago must play at a 590 clip for the rest of the season to win. Boston at a 580 rate, New York at a 542 clip, Cleveland .669 and Detroit .678.

From these figures Detroit and Cleveland seem to have a mighty poor chance unless their game improves greatly.

In the national league New York has not gone ahead at the rate the experts figured for McGraw at the opening of the season. Erratic pitching and misdirected temperament are the causes.

The Braves are the big disappointment of the National league and the Cubs and Cards the surprises.

Stallings can't get his club started. There is no atom of the stuff which caused the 1914 drive or fought it out with Philadelphia in 1915 and 1916. The Braves have slipped badly.

On the basis of winning 95 games for a pennant the Philadelphia club can breeze along at a .584 clip and New York at a .590 clip and be up there. Chicago must play .640 base ball and St. Louis .654 to have a look-in. Cincinnati would have to play at the rate of .705 to be thereabouts.

1 oceansful of happiness

Some of the things that came to her, but which are not on the list, are: One escape from 16 years' grind as a bookkeeper, one escape from the trials and tribulations of a woman real estate agent, one transplantation from loneliness, city pavements, smoky atmosphere, sordid existence, a corned-beef-and-cabbage smelling boarding house, and from threatening spinsterhood in a city where nobody cares.

The Story of the Bachelors.
Last fall half a dozen bachelor farmers from North Dakota came to Chicago in search of wives. Their story was printed in The Tribune and was read by Mrs. Schwinden, then Miss Little M. Kennedy, veteran bookkeeper and fledgling real estate seller. Picturing the wide, wind-swept prairies, visioning the cows and the chickens, and dwelling at length upon the thought that nobody loves an old maid, she wrote a letter and sent it in care of The Tribune. It was given to one of the wife hunting North Dakotans, who took it home, and in time put it in an envelope and mailed it to a friend, Theodore Schwinden. Married in Short Order.
Schwinden immediately wrote, was answered, and last April he sent a check. Miss Kennedy packed a suitcase, hopped on a train, and hid herself away. Three days later she was married, and she just had to let The Tribune know of her good fortune. As Miss Kennedy, Mrs. Schwinden formerly kept books for the Alexander Woolens company, 326 West Adams street and later sold real estate for Charles W. James & Co., 11 West Washington street.

"Is she happy?" You'd just ought to hear her talk about that big new husband of hers, and that home, and the things that go with a home, and that farm, and the things that go with a farm.

MORE WORK FOR DEEP SEA DIVER

His the Job to Clear Mysteries of Graveyards of Seven Seas.

IS DANGEROUS AND DIFFICULT

Must Survey Ships Sunk by Submarines, Mines and Shells in the Last Three Years—150 Feet is the Limit.

With the Grand Fleet—Submarines, mines and gunfire in the last three years have added more victims to the graveyards of the seven seas than in any other period of the world's history. It will remain for the diver to clear up the mysteries that surround many of them. Even now the duties of these men, so little brought to public attention, is one of the most exacting of the war.

I have had an opportunity of talking with a diver who has had wide experience, and who, when I saw him, had only shortly before completed the survey of a wreck. It was a difficult piece of work, and one illustrative of the hardships of the profession. He had found the wreck, but fully a mile and a half from where the vessel had foundered. A strong current had swept it that distance.

"Will it be possible to go down to the Lusitania?" I asked him, recalling the discussion in American marine quarters as to the possibility of saving the vessel.

"I believe the water is too deep where she went down for any diver to reach her," was his answer. "Of course there have been many notable diving feats in recent years and new appliances are always being experimented with, though there seems nothing at present which would warrant the belief that a diver could go down to the great liner. It is possible to work at a depth of 150 feet, but no further."

Crab Got Two Fingers.

He told me of one of the most recent of his diving exploits. "I was sitting on the blade of a ship's propeller trying to release a cable which I had fouled as she went down. As I finally got the cable free the propeller began to move and pitched me off. It revolved several times. I thought my number was up, as I believed the blades would cut my air communications, and it was impossible to get to the top. The water was very deep. It didn't, though, and my only trouble was in regaining my feet again. It is extremely difficult to get a footing once you have lost it. Sometimes you come up legs first. It was a narrow squeak."

One of the navy divers recently lost two fingers when nipped by a crab which, he said, measured fully two feet across its back. There are many stories about divers which they themselves cast suspicion on, but this was not one of them. The fingers were gone when the man came to the surface in an exhausted condition.

But working in the cold seas, where much of the diving of the navy now goes on, there are no such menaces as the octopus of tropical waters.

Much Work for Divers.

While many craft now lying in comparatively shallow water may be patched up and raised when the war is over, it is certain that divers will principally be engaged in ascertaining the whereabouts of wrecks, the causes which led to their destruction, and the repairs necessary to attempt any recovery of the vessels. The profession has been largely augmented during the war. There are great difficulties in surveying ships, particularly if they lie in northern seas, where the water is very cold and where they are at a depth of from 125 to 150 feet. At the 150-foot depth the pressure is so great that before divers are brought to the surface they must linger in a sort of "twilight zone" at a depth of 120 feet, or slightly less, so their lungs can get in proper shape before they can be brought to the top.

One case of the sort which has just been brought to my attention is that of a diver who had gone down to fasten a cable to an anchor which had been lost in water more than 120 feet deep. It was very cold, and his hands became so numbed that he was unable to "carry on," and had to be brought to the surface. He was rubbed and brought back to good condition again and once more was lowered to the "twilight zone," where his lungs could go through the process which has been found absolutely essential in bringing their cells back to normal condition. It has been found that where treated otherwise the diver becomes easily subject to tuberculosis.

KNOW HOW TO RAISE A BOY?

If You Did You Would Solve All the Problems of Mankind and Conquer the World.

"How to Raise a Boy? Why, if anybody knew how to raise a boy he would conquer the world. He would take his place at the head of all philosophers—and stand as the most exalted of men! If there could be written rules of rearing children, all problems would be solved. There would be no distress in the world, no crime, no blots upon the whole face of the earth," says the Dayton News. "Boys are born and proceed to grow. They have heaped upon them from their earliest understanding all manner of admonitions. They have showered upon them more human love than any other creatures that are born. They have more care and attention—and pay less attention to it—than any other things that come into the world. Now and then one develops into a criminal; now and then one breaks the hearts of all who have had anything to do with him. But none of them follow precepts or advice. None of them develop along lines they are taught. None of them turn out exactly as those who have them in charge expect them to turn out."

"It is this way: A mother has two sons. They receive the same care and attention. Their environment is identical. They eat the same food. They have equal opportunities or advantages as regards education. They study under the same teachers—or refuse to study under them. Theoretically, they ought to make the same kind of men, for they have been brought up together. But they don't. They are nothing alike when they are grown. One is good, the other bad. One is studious, the other refuses to study. One is reliable, the other unreliable. No, there is no way of telling how a boy ought to be raised."

HOUSES HEATED WITH SMOKE

Inhabitants of Korea Have Ingenious Way of Making the Floor Serve as a Huge Stove.

The rigorous winter of Korea, which deters many Japanese from settling there, is made endurable, says the Herald of Asia, by means of heating contrivances called ondol. This is a very ingenious way of heating a whole room by making smoke and heated air pass under the floor. In fact, the floor serves as a huge stove.

A floor is first made of mud and is intersected by three or four flues which spring from the fireplace at one side of the house and converge into the chimney at the other. Large slabs of stone are laid over this mud floor with its parallel flues. The joints are made airtight with clay, and a layer of clay is added on the top. Finally the whole is covered with thick oiled paper. The fireplace is outside of the wall at one side and the smoke passes through those flues in the floor on its way to the chimney at the other end of the house. In this way the whole room is effectively warmed. Neither stove nor hibachi is needed in such a room, even during an exceedingly cold day, and it is a real comfort to sleep in it, feeling, as one does, the soft warmth enveloping the whole body from beneath.

MAN IS WORTH 1,000 EGGS

Same Ingredients Are to Be Found in Both—Valued at $2.45 for Illuminating Purposes.

What is a man? How much is he worth from a scientific viewpoint? According to one way of looking at it a man is worth about $2.50 a day from his shoulders down and anywhere from $50,000 to $1,000,000 a year from his shoulders up. This is said to be the estimate of the average successful business man.

The scientist, however, looks at the question from another angle. According to him a man is worth $2.45 for illuminating purposes, since a man weighing 150 pounds contains about 3,500 cubic feet of oxygen, hydrogen and nitrogen in his constitution, which at 70 cents per 1,000 cubic feet equals the price above. Also a man contains enough carbon to make 9,360 lead pencils; enough phosphorus to make 800,000 matches or enough to kill 500 persons, and enough water to fill a 32-quart reservoir.

Furthermore, it makes no difference how sour a man may look he contains about 60 lumps of sugar, a great deal of starch, chloride of potash, magnesium, sulphur and hydrochloric acid in his system. There are 50 grains of iron in the blood of an ordinary man, enough to make one spike large enough to hold his weight.

What is a man? This is the somewhat cynical answer of one scientific man: "Break the shells of 1,000 eggs into a huge pan or basin and you have ingredients from which to form him from his toenails to the most delicate tissues of his brain."—Popular Science Monthly.

WHOLESALE GROCERS COMMEND CONGRESS FOR FOOD DISCUSSION

Chicago, June 20.—Men who have had much to do with handling the nation's food supply were here today, when the "Liberty convention" of the National Wholesale Grocers' association was formally called to order.

Theodore F. Whitmarsh, president of the organization, paid a tribute to those at Washington engaged on the food problem and the earnest and efficient manner in which the members of the administration put in long hours at their task.

To Assist Government.

Mr. Whitmarsh recounted that the association is a war council assigned to carry out the pledge of the grocers to assist the government in every possible way. He advocated that authority to conduct all phases of the war be centralized in a competent few.

Mr. Whitmarsh paid his respects to those who would curtail exports by asserting that "such a project would be 'unfair, unfriendly and unthinkable.'" On the subject of "business as usual," Mr. Whitmarsh said:

"We must help to correct the erroneous notion prevailing as to the sort of economy necessary under existing conditions. What is required is the elimination of waste and the checking of actual extravagance, not contraction of business in a general sense."

Fred R. Drake, chairman, in presenting the report of the committee on pure food legislation, said the association is heartily supporting administration food bills pending in congress.

EVERY FUR SEAL HAS HAREM

Male Sometimes Gathers More Than 100 Females on the Section of Beach Which He Controls.

Fur seals are extremely polygamous and the old males, which weigh from 400 to 500 pounds, "haul up" first on the breeding beaches. Each bull holds a certain area, and as the females, only one-fifth his size, come ashore they are appropriated by the nearest bulls until each "beach master" gathers a harem, sometimes containing more than 100 members, says the National Geographic Magazine.

Here the young are born, and after the mating season, the seals which have remained ashore without food from 4 to 6 weeks, return to the water. The mothers go and come, and each is able to find her young with certainty among thousands of apparently identical woolly black "pups."

From the ages of one to four years fur seals are extremely playful. They are marvelous swimmers and frolic about in pursuit of one another now diving deep and then, one after the other, suddenly leaping high above the surface in graceful curves, like porpoises. Squids and fish of various species are their main food. Their chief natural enemy is the killer whale, which follows their migrations and haunts the sea about their breeding ground, taking heavy toll among them.

Light In Sugar Crystals.

A soft bluish light has occasionally been seen when a scoop was scraped across solidly caked sugar in the bin. Loose sugar does not show this glow nor does granulated. A scientist says that the cause of the peculiar light is in the fracturing of the sugar crystals. Luminescence of this type accompanies the breaking of crystals of a number of different substances, but in none is it more pronounced than in rock candy. To get the best effect place lumps of rock candy between the jaws of nut crackers or forceps and suddenly crush the crystal to fragments. If the room has previously been darkened the flash of light may be seen at a distance of 20 yards or more.

BELL HAD EARLY STRUGGLES

Inventor of Telephone Experienced Common Fate of Pioneers in His Early Manhood.

Next to the reaping machine, which drove famine from the world, America's greatest gift to modern civilization has been the telephone. The name of its inventor, Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, will live down the ages after all but two or three present-day Americans have been forgotten.

Unlike most famous inventors, Doctor Bell did not spring from obscurity and poverty. His father was a scholar and scientist of note, and young Bell received a ripe education. But he did not escape the common fate of inventors and pioneers. His struggles with poverty came in early manhood instead of in boyhood. And they were struggles as trying and as protracted as fall to the lot of few men. At one time, while fighting to establish his ridiculed "toy" as an article of genuine use, he was reduced to the extremity of borrowing occasional half-dollars for a meal, sharing this lot with his dynamic colleague, Theodore N. Vail.

The world first learned of the telephone at the Centennial exposition at Philadelphia in 1876. On January 20 of that year a young college professor of Salem, Mass., Alexander Graham Bell, had executed specifications and a claim for an invention embodying an improvement in telegraphy, which in reality was a telephone, and on February 14 his application for the American patent was filed at Washington.

The first telephone message of which there is record was this: "Mr. Watson, come here, I want you." It was sent on March 10, 1876, by the inventor from the top floor of a Boston boarding house to a colleague, Thomas A. Watson, in a room below. Watson heard every word and rushed to apprise Bell of the fact. Almost 40 years later, on January 15, 1915, Doctor Bell sent this same message to Mr. Watson, only this time Bell was in New York and Watson in San Francisco.

PEKING SEES DEVIL DANCE

Ceremony Instituted During the Taing Dynasty More Than 200 Years Ago, Enacted by Priests.

Peking recently witnessed the ceremony instituted during the Taing dynasty, over 200 years ago, known as the "devil dance." It took place in the Lama temple, and was witnessed by several thousand devout Buddhist worshippers, says East and West. Eighty priests danced in groups, varying in number from two to twenty. All the celebrants wore gorgeously embroidered silk robes and masks representing animals. Conspicuous were heads of tigers, oxen, sheep and deer. The dance ended at two o'clock in the afternoon, when a procession of the priests formed and proceeded to the east gate of the temple grounds, where the paper effigy of a nude woman was burned.

The legend which the ceremony commemorates is that the devil, in form of a woman, ran about the country, casting spells and working mischief to crops, animals and humans. Attempts to catch her were futile until the Buddha sent a charmed horse to run her down. The animal overtook the fleeing woman after a race of 10,000 li, seized her in his teeth, brought her to a place of punishment where she was publicly destroyed by fire. The female figure is not alike on all occasions, sometimes an old hag is represented, but generally the woman is young and comely, as being more dangerous to mankind.

The ceremonial recalls to those who have traveled in Mohammedan countries the religious fervor of the "dancing dervishes."

Cats as Hunters.

Dr. A. A. Allen, professor of birds at Cornell, suggests that anyone who is skeptical about the hunting ability of the cat should go out in the early fall morning after a light snow fall and track the wild animals of the nearby woods. Perhaps you will find the tracks of a red squirrel; squirrels are very clever and usually manage to exist even in cities. Perhaps you will find the tracks of a cottontail or two; rabbits are very prolific and stand a great deal of persecution. Probably you will find the tracks of a few rats and mice; but be assured you will find Puss-in-Boots in force, her tracks crossing and recrossing. Doctor Allen does not believe there is a place in the eastern United States within five miles of a human habitation where you will not find the tracks of the domestic cat more frequently than those of any wild animals, squirrels, rabbits, mice excepted. Trappers catch them in their traps set in the wilds far from houses.—Grit.

Wise Fish.

Scientists have discovered how fish can find their way to fresh water. Their studies of the resistance of salt-water fishes to the decayed and decomposed things, has led to an explanation of their habits.

It appears that herrings can sense differences in heat and cold as small as a quarter of a degree or less. They appreciate the fact that only a trace of an acid or alkali is present in water. So sensitive are herring said to be to acids and alkalis that the scientists propose that these and other fish be used to detect the chemicals instead of the litmus paper, which chemists use, and in the same manner that canary birds are used to discover traces of poison coal gas in mines and elsewhere.

NEW BANKING LAW OPERATIVE UPON JULY FIRST

Governor Frazier Has Not Named
Members of Depositors
Guaranty Fund

North Dakota's new bank deposit guaranty law will go into effect July 1 and considerable interest attaches to the operation of the act.

Depositors' Board.
Governor Frazier has not yet named the appointive members of the depositors' guaranty fund commission. This board is to be composed of five members, the governor, the state examiner and three bankers, members in good standing of the North Dakota State Bankers' association, to be nominated by this association and appointed by the governor.

By popular ballot the association has selected from a field of 11 candidates nine nominees, from whom the governor is to make his choice of three.

The Guaranty Fund.
A guaranty fund is created by levying an assessment of 1/20 of one per cent of the average daily deposits as shown by statements to be filed covering a year's operations levied against each bank in the state. Emergency assessments may be made whenever the fund shall be depleted. After the fund attains a certain maximum, assessments will cease until the amount again falls below that standard. Should a bank failure occur, there will be appropriated from this fund an amount sufficient to repay every depositor 100 per cent of his principal.

VALLEY CITY IN GALA DRESS FOR COMMENCEMENT

Special Exercises in Honor of Mr.
Farland's 25th Anniversary
Occupy Week

Valley City, N. D., June 20.—The Valley City normal's special commencement exercises in honor of the 25th anniversary of President McFarland, which opened Saturday evening with the closing exercises of the training school, will continue throughout the week. Sunday evening President Harry Moorehouse Gage of Huron college, Huron, S. D., delivered the annual sermon to the seniors. Monday evening classes in physical education competed on the campus at 8:30 for the Herriek trophy, and at 8:30 the commencement concert of the department of music will be held. Ceremonies commemorating the 25 years' service of President George A. McFarland opened at 9:30 this morning. At noon the annual alumni reception was given, with the class of 1917 as guests, and the alumni parade and picnic supper was held in the afternoon. In the evening the "Pageant of Growth" will be presented by alumni, under the direction of Miss Martha E. Dewey, in honor of the president, and the alumni ball will follow. This evening Elsie Herndon Kearns and company present "The Winter's Tale," at the auditorium. Thursday afternoon and evening two other Shakespearean productions are scheduled, and Friday, at 10:00 a. m., the 25th annual commencement exercises open, with Lewis F. Crawford of Sentinel Butte, president of the state board of regents, the principal speaker.

REPORTER HITS THE ROYAL HAY

Look who's here! Charles Edward Russell, famous American and long time correspondent for the Tribune, kicking his boots under the bed in the ex-czar's winter palace in Petrograd! Cables say the American mission is quartered right here in the palace where ex-Highness Nick used to say his evening prayers and kick the royal cat down the back stairs. Of all things!

keeper now hands out to you a carbon copy of your bill of goods.
From Ruins of Jopha.
The gifts, which are highly prized by their owner, are small, clay tablets excavated from the ruins of the city of Jopha, an important municipality of the Ur-nina dynasty of the Assyrians. The older, which dates back to 2350 B. C., is an official receipt for the delivery of certain cattle and other farm products, and to prevent alteration it is stamped with a formal seal which resembles very much seals seen on public Chinese documents of this day. The younger of these tablets runs back only 2,300 years before Christ. It is the more interesting of the two, however, as it is a receipt for some animals delivered to the priests of the temple for sacrifice.

Cuneiform Writing.
The writing on both of the tablets is perfectly legible to anyone familiar with the cuneiform style. The indentations are remarkably clear and sharply outlined. They could not be more so had the clay tablets been molded and baked yesterday, and Dr. Edgar J. Banks of Alpine, N. J., noted archaeologist and author of "The Bible of the Spade" who presented them to Mrs. Budlong, guarantees them to be genuine and the dates to be authentic. The traces of the fingers which 43 centuries ago molded these tablets are as plain as Bertillon measurements made only a few hours since, and as one handles the little tablets he begins to feel strangely intimate with Nebuchadnezzar, Cyrus and other kings of old and to have a contempt for the cheaply modern caesars and the later pharaohs. The gifts were mailed from New Jersey last December and had been wandering over the continent until their receipt by Mrs. Budlong this week.

5,000 TEXAS RANGE CATTLE SOLD; 1,100 MORE ON THE ROAD

Demand for Feeders in Western North Dakota Unusually Large—Pass Inspection

"The demand for good feeding stock in North Dakota is remarkable," said Dr. W. F. Crews, secretary of the North Dakota live stock sanitary board, this morning. "The King Commission company at Mandan within the last few weeks has shipped in and sold 5,000 Texas range yearling heifers, and I have just been issued a permit for bringing in 1,100 more." Everyone, Dr. Crews states, seems to be feeding cattle, and North Dakota will have plenty of food to market on the hoof next fall if there is sufficient rain to make good grass. The cattle which have been sold at Minot are Hereford whitefaces of a good type. They will make several hundred pounds more beef on the succulent grasses of North Dakota than they would if matured on their native ranges, and Dr. Crews is of the opinion that anyone who feeds cattle this summer is due to earn good money.

Sees Dead Baby Floating Past Homestead Door

Selfridge, S. D., June 20.—The little two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Strickler, playing about their cabin door, tumbled into the creek and was drowned. Although the body was recovered in less than 10 minutes, when the mother saw the little form floating down the stream, efforts to restore life proved futile.

HUNDREDS PAY HONOR TO GARRISON PRIESTS

Benedictine Fathers of St. Nicholas Church Celebrate Fifteenth Anniversary

Garrison, N. D., June 20.—Revs. Bonaventura Hansen and Robert McMenon, O. S. B., pastors of St. Nicholas church, with the aid of Garrison citizens on the occasion of the annual feast of the Sacred Heart of Jesus celebrated the fifteenth anniversary of their elevation to the priesthood. The assisting priests were Rev. Timothy Meljures, O. S. B., as deacon, and Rev. Eugene Moederhoff, O. S. B., as subdeacon. Special music was offered by the choir, under the direction of Rev. Peter Fehrenbach, O. S. B., of Ellsworth. Large numbers of people motored in from Underwood, Turtle Lake and other points served by the local clergy, to attend the festive mass.

Balated Christmas Gifts 4350 Years On Way to Owner

Mrs. Minnie C. Budlong, secretary of the North Dakota public library commission, received today two balated Christmas gifts respectively 4,300 and 4,350 years on the way. Of course, when they started for Bismarck they didn't know they were to be Christmas gifts, for they were created 23 centuries before the advent of Christ, nor did they know much about Bismarck, Babylon and Sodom and Gomorrah and Nineveh were the big cities of that day. Even Fargo hadn't been dreamed of then. And the little messengers that arrived today didn't really start out to be gifts at all but were issued as very important and official receipts, just as your store-
